Recitals

Discloser has developed proprietary technology and business information relating to its BidBrief product and its hierarchical document-analysis architecture known as "HOTDOG AI." The Parties desire to evaluate and/or pursue a potential business relationship, which may include evaluation, licensing, development, integration, contracting, investment, or other collaboration (the "Purpose"). In connection with the Purpose, Discloser may disclose certain Confidential Information (as defined below) to Recipient. The Parties agree as follows:

1. Definitions

1.1 "Confidential Information" means all non-public information disclosed by Discloser to Recipient, whether disclosed orally, visually, in writing, electronically, or by inspection of tangible objects, that is (a) marked or identified as confidential or proprietary, or (b) that reasonably should be understood to be confidential given the nature of the information and the circumstances of disclosure. Confidential Information includes, without limitation, trade secrets, inventions (whether patentable or not), know-how, methods, processes, algorithms, prompt designs, configurations, models, software and source code, architecture, data structures, documentation, research and development, product plans, roadmaps, pricing and cost information, performance metrics and benchmarks, customer and prospect information, marketing strategies, business opportunities, and any analyses, notes, or materials derived from the foregoing.

1.2 "BidBrief-Specific Confidential Information" includes, without limitation: (i) the document titled "BidBrief Intellectual Property Outline - For NDA Drafting Purposes (Version 1.0, generated January 28, 2026)" and any updates, attachments, extracts, diagrams, screen recordings, demonstrations, repositories, deployments, or other materials provided by Discloser relating to BidBrief (collectively, the "BidBrief IP Materials"); (ii) information concerning Discloser's patent-pending methods and systems for automated analysis of construction specification documents (including the technology described in the BidBrief IP Materials); and (iii) the trade secrets and other protectable information summarized in Exhibit A.

1.3 "Representatives" means Recipient's employees, officers, directors, managers, members, contractors, professional advisors (including attorneys and accountants), and bona fide financing sources, in each case who have a need to know the Confidential Information for the Purpose and who are bound by written confidentiality obligations at least as protective as those in this Agreement.

1.4 "Trade Secret" has the meaning given under applicable law and includes information that derives independent economic value from not being generally known and is subject to reasonable efforts to maintain secrecy.

2. Use and Non-Disclosure Obligations

2.1 Use Limitation. Recipient will use Discloser's Confidential Information solely for the Purpose and for no other purpose. Without limiting the foregoing, Recipient will not use Confidential Information (a) for competitive analysis, benchmarking, or development of any product or service that is competitive with or substantially similar to BidBrief or the HOTDOG AI architecture, (b) to solicit Discloser's customers or prospects for a substantially similar solution derived from the Confidential Information, or (c) to file or prosecute any patent or other intellectual property rights covering Confidential Information.

2.2 Non-Disclosure; Need-to-Know. Recipient will not disclose Discloser's Confidential Information to any person or entity except to its Representatives who need to know such information for the Purpose. Recipient will be responsible for any breach of this Agreement by its Representatives.

2.3 Standard of Care. Recipient will protect Discloser's Confidential Information using at least the same degree of care it uses to protect its own confidential information of similar importance, but no less than reasonable care. Recipient will promptly notify Discloser of any unauthorized use or disclosure and will cooperate with Discloser to mitigate harm.

2.4 No Reverse Engineering. Recipient will not (and will not permit any third party to) reverse engineer, decompile, disassemble, translate, derive source code from, or otherwise attempt to discover the underlying structure, ideas, prompts, algorithms, thresholds, or implementation details of any software, prototypes, models, demos, or other tangible embodiments of Confidential Information, except to the extent expressly permitted by applicable law and only after providing Discloser written notice and a reasonable opportunity to seek protective relief.

2.5 No Model Training / Data Harvesting. Recipient will not use, incorporate, upload, input, or otherwise provide any Confidential Information (including excerpts, summaries, derivatives, or embeddings) to any third-party system or service, including any generative AI or machine-learning system, for the purpose of training, fine-tuning, improving, evaluating, or creating a model, dataset, prompt library, or automated workflow, except with Discloser's prior written consent. This restriction does not prohibit ordinary internal note-taking or document management, provided such tools are controlled by Recipient and subject to confidentiality protections consistent with this Agreement.

2.6 Limited Copying. Recipient may copy Confidential Information only to the extent reasonably necessary for the Purpose and must reproduce all confidentiality legends on any such copies.

3. Exclusions

Confidential Information does not include information that Recipient can demonstrate by contemporaneous written records: (a) is or becomes generally available to the public through no breach of this Agreement; (b) was lawfully known to Recipient without restriction before disclosure by Discloser; (c) is lawfully received from a third party without breach of any obligation of confidentiality; or (d) is independently developed by Recipient without use of, reference to, or reliance upon Discloser's Confidential Information. The exclusions above do not apply to Trade Secrets that become public as a result of a breach of this Agreement.

4. Compelled Disclosure

If Recipient is required by law, regulation, or court order to disclose any Confidential Information, Recipient will (to the extent legally permitted) promptly notify Discloser in writing so Discloser may seek a protective order or other remedy. Recipient will disclose only the portion of Confidential Information legally required and will use reasonable efforts to ensure confidential treatment of the disclosed information.

5. Ownership; No License

5.1 Ownership. All Confidential Information remains the exclusive property of Discloser. Nothing in this Agreement transfers any ownership interest in any intellectual property, including patents (including Discloser's patent-pending work described in the BidBrief IP Materials), copyrights, trade secrets, trademarks, or other proprietary rights.

5.2 No Implied Rights. No license or other rights are granted under this Agreement, whether by implication, estoppel, or otherwise, except the limited right to use Confidential Information solely for the Purpose.

6. Feedback

If Recipient provides suggestions, ideas, improvements, or other feedback relating to the Confidential Information or the Purpose ("Feedback"), Discloser may use and incorporate such Feedback without restriction or obligation. To the extent Recipient has any intellectual property rights in Feedback, Recipient hereby grants Discloser a perpetual, irrevocable, worldwide, royalty-free, fully paid, sublicensable license to use, reproduce, prepare derivative works of, distribute, perform, display, make, have made, sell, offer for sale, import, and otherwise exploit the Feedback for any purpose.

7. Term; Survival

7.1 Term. This Agreement begins on the Effective Date and continues for five (5) years unless earlier terminated by either Party upon thirty (30) days' written notice.

7.2 Survival. Recipient's duty to protect Confidential Information disclosed during the Term survives termination or expiration of this Agreement for five (5) years from the date of each disclosure. Notwithstanding the foregoing, obligations regarding Trade Secrets survive for so long as such information remains a Trade Secret under applicable law.

8. Return or Destruction

Upon Discloser's written request, Recipient will promptly (and in any event within ten (10) business days) return or destroy all Confidential Information, including all copies, notes, summaries, and extracts, and certify in writing that it has done so. Recipient may retain one archival copy solely for legal or compliance purposes, provided it remains subject to this Agreement and is not accessed for any other purpose.

9. No Obligation; No Warranty

9.1 No Obligation to Proceed. This Agreement does not obligate either Party to proceed with any transaction or relationship, and either Party may cease discussions at any time.

9.2 As-Is. All Confidential Information is provided "AS IS" without any representation or warranty, express or implied, including as to accuracy or completeness.

10. Remedies

Recipient acknowledges that unauthorized use or disclosure of Confidential Information may cause irreparable harm for which monetary damages may be inadequate.

Accordingly, Discloser is entitled to seek injunctive or equitable relief (without the necessity of posting bond, to the fullest extent permitted by law) to prevent or curtail any breach or threatened breach, in addition to any other remedies available at law or in equity. The prevailing party in any action to enforce this Agreement will be entitled to recover its reasonable attorneys' fees and costs.

11. Dispute Resolution; Governing Principles

This Agreement will be interpreted and enforced under applicable United States law and generally accepted contract principles. Any action arising out of or relating to this Agreement may be brought in any court of competent jurisdiction. Each Party consents to personal jurisdiction where such action is properly brought and waives objections based on improper venue or forum non conveniens.

12. Miscellaneous

12.1 Assignment. Recipient may not assign this Agreement without Discloser's prior written consent. Discloser may assign this Agreement without consent to a successor in connection with a merger, acquisition, or sale of substantially all assets, provided the successor assumes the obligations hereunder in writing.

12.2 Severability. If any provision is held unenforceable, the remaining provisions will remain in full force and effect, and the provision will be reformed to the minimum extent necessary to make it enforceable while preserving the Parties' intent.

12.3 Waiver. A waiver of any breach is not a waiver of any other breach. Any waiver must be in writing and signed by the waiving Party.

12.4 Entire Agreement; Amendments. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the Parties regarding its subject matter and supersedes all prior or contemporaneous understandings. Any amendment must be in writing and signed by both Parties.

12.5 Counterparts; Electronic Signatures. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each deemed an original. Signatures delivered electronically (including PDF or e-signature platforms) are binding and effective.

12.6 Notices. Notices must be in writing and delivered by personal delivery, nationally recognized overnight courier, or email with confirmation of receipt, to the addresses set forth above (or to any updated address provided by notice). Notices to Discloser should be sent to: Additional Intelligence, LLC, Attn: Authorized Representative, Email:

EXHIBIT A - BIDBRIEF CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION (NON-EXHAUSTIVE)

This Exhibit summarizes categories of Confidential Information expected to be disclosed by Additional Intelligence, LLC in connection with the Purpose. It is non-exhaustive and does not limit the definition of Confidential Information in the Agreement.

A. BidBrief IP Materials. The document titled "BidBrief Intellectual Property Outline - For NDA Drafting Purposes (Version 1.0, generated January 28, 2026)" and any updates, appendices, diagrams, code excerpts, screen recordings, demos, and derivative disclosures.

B. Core Architecture and Workflows. The HOTDOG AI hierarchical document analysis architecture, including document ingestion and page-preserving extraction, configuration loading, expert persona generation, multi-expert orchestration (including parallel execution), second-pass processing, smart accumulation and deduplication, token budgeting, and output compilation.

C. Algorithms, Thresholds, and Validation Rules. Similarity and deduplication algorithms and thresholds; answer merging strategies; citation validation rules and fallback extraction patterns; confidence scoring and classification breakpoints; and any heuristics used to improve accuracy, coverage, and throughput.

D. Prompts, Configurations, and Schemas. Meta-prompts, expert prompts, prompt templates, context guardrails, hierarchical section/question configuration schemas, question sets, model-selection strategies, token budgeting formulas, and parameter settings.

E. Source Code and Data Structures. All proprietary code (including Python source), modules, internal APIs, libraries, repositories, data models, and documentation, whether in development, testing, or production.

F. Business Information. Pricing, costs, performance benchmarks, customer/prospect information, usage data, go-to-market plans, competitive positioning, and product roadmap information.
